04 BSEC asks for five-year extension of banks' capital-market investment funds

The Bangladesh Securities and Exchange Commission reportedly requested Bangladesh Bank to extend special bank capital-market investment funds by five more years. The arrangements, introduced in 2020, allow participating banks to invest up to Tk200 crore through designated funds, with existing maturities approaching. The reported request aims to avoid a sudden withdrawal of investment; an extension has not been confirmed as granted.

05 BO-account easing remains a market catalyst, not a newly dated commission order

Market coverage on 5 November linked improved investor sentiment partly to the regulator's earlier decision to ease restrictions on selected beneficiary-owner accounts. The policy discussion and announcement predated Thursday; publication on 5 November makes the news analysis current but does not mean a separate commission decision was issued that day. Actual account access remains subject to the applicable directives and restrictions.
